Charge Fraud In Election of Directors of Grain Growers, Inc.

BARE BIG DEFICIT IN TREASURY FUND

Fate of Organization In Doubt as Session Adjourns Amid Tumult

By FREDERICK G. NEUMEIRER (United Press Staff Correspondent) CHICAGO, March 25.—The United States Grain Growers, Inc., largest farmers' co-operative organization in the world was split wide-open today.

The first annual convention of the organization broke up in a fight, with the resignation of the three Illinois directors and announcement of the refusal of the North Dakota director to serve.

William G. Eckhardt, De Kalb, Ill., former treasurer, was defeated for re-election, 22,844 to 18,941.

Protest was made by anti-administration delegates, especially those from Illinois, against "steam roller methods" of the convention.

Fears were expressed by leaders of the movement for the future of the organization. It now owes nearly $300,000, of which $117,000 is due the Illinois Agricultural association. There is a deficit of $80,000 and the association faces about $100,000 in additional debts.

The United States Grain Growers has 100,000,000 bushels of grain under contract and has 54,000 members.

After a three-day fight in the convention over election of directors, the administration forces, led by C. H. Gustafson, were successful in electing 15 of the 21 members of the board.

Several of the directors chosen, the anti-administration forces claimed, were not members of the organization, including Hans Georgeson, Niagara, N. D.

A. F. McInnis, Dazy, N. D., who was chosen a director, said he would refuse to serve.

Coles, Bloomington, Ill.; Robert Peterson, Oswego, Ill.; and R. N. Clarke, Stronshurst, Ill., resigned as the meeting adjourned in a tumult.

HARDING WINS FIGHT OVER ARMY MEASURE

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The provision in the army appropriation bill directing President Harding to withdraw troops in China and calling for reduction of forces in the Philippines, Hawaii and the Canal zone, was today eliminated from the measure by the house on the motion of Representative Rogers, Massachusetts, Republican.

Harding strongly opposed this provision as an invasion of executive powers.

L. A. Police Chief Promises Fight On Vice as Department Men Accused

(United Press Leased Wire) LOS ANGELES, March 24.—Following the dismissal of Captain of Police W. L. Spellman, commander of the Central division, and Lieutenant A. W. Gifford, head of the vice squad, Chief of Police Everington today issued a stinging criticism of certain members of his department personnel and indicated his intention of "taking to the war path."

"I am going to clean up this city," he said. "I want to do it quietly so it will not hurt business."

"I don't care what anybody says—the city is to be cleaned up. If I can't do it quietly, I will make stump speeches."

"And when my work is through, I'll go back to Glendale. That's where I want to be—in Glendale with my wife and kids."

"If the men back me up, all is well; if they don't, God help them, for I won't."

The chief said that commercialized vice, gambling and various activities of the underworld were rampant, and that too many of his officers and men "were making an effort to check up on the situation; were seeing nothing and hearing nothing."

Rancher Fatally Hurt When Caught In Suction of Fast Train

HANFORD, Cal., March 24.—Court L. Newport, prominent rancher of Kings county, and president of the Kings County Chamber of Commerce, was probably fatally injured this morning at Cemetery road, and the Southern Pacific crossing near here.

Newport is reported to have stepped from his automobile at the crossing and approached the passing train. He stood near the tracks, according to the train engineer, and in some unaccountable manner, fell or was dragged in by suction against the steps of a coach. He suffered a bad frontal fracture of the skull and other injuries from which it is said he cannot recover.

AGED FATHER STABS SON TO PROTECT WIFE

Modesto Man, Becoming Raving Maniac, Attacks Parents; May Die From Knife Wounds.

MODESTO, Cal., March 24.—After he had become a raving maniac and had attacked his aged parents, E. M. Boone was stabbed by his 80 year old father today. He lies in the county hospital in a dying condition.

Daniel Boone, the father, stabbed his son twenty times in the back. The butcher knife that he used penetrated his son's lung.

The father acted after he had been felled to the floor by his son and after he had found his son choking his mother, who lay on her bed. In a struggle the bed was broken to the ground.

E. M. Boone, an idiot from birth, has been in the care of his parents for forty years. The son was naked during the struggle, having refused to clothe himself for two days.

UNIQUE DISTRIBUTION HELD BY ANGELENO

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Asst. Atty. Gen. Mabel W. Willebrandt of Los Angeles, these days holds the unique distinction of being argued for the government, before the United States supreme court, a case involving $45,000,000 in revenue, being the first woman to handle a case involving so tremendous a responsibility.

Other women have argued cases in the past before the highest court of the nation, but none with so large an amount dependent upon her eloquence and argument.

The case is one based on the prohibition enforcement act, docketed as "Ernest Lipke, appellant, against Ephraim Lederer, collector of internal revenue, appellee."

It is really a test of section 35, of the Volstead act, imposing a tax and penalty upon those who unlawfully manufacture or sell intoxicating liquor.

EXCHANGE MEMBERS SUSPENDED FOR YEAR

NEW YORK, March 24.—Archibald B. Boyd, of the brokerage firm of Boyd, Halstead and Company, and Percy R. Goepel of Goepel and company, were suspended for one year from the New York Stock Exchange on charges of "bucketing," according to an announcement made from the forum by President Cromwell. The vote for suspension was taken at a meeting of the exchange directors.

The suspension of Boyd and Goepel followed charges of violation of the stock exchange constitution relating to the bucketing of orders, which holds that any member connected in any way with an organization which makes "a practice of taking the side of the market opposite to customers shall be deemed to have acted in a manner detrimental to the interest and welfare of the exchange."

Boyd was admitted to the exchange in 1902 and Goepel in 1919. Each was the senior member of his firm.

BLAME ENGINEER OF ROLLER FOR FATAL WRECK

MONROVIA, Cal., March 24.—Coroner Frank Nance's jury here this afternoon placed blame for the fatal wreck of the Santa Fe's crack Phoenix flyer upon Joseph A. Wolf, of Azusa, engineer of the steam roller, which derailed the train.

It also found the excessive speed of the flyer, which failed to slow down to less than 60 miles an hour, while passing through the city, to be a contributing cause.

Engineer Oliver A. Bryson and Fireman Charles M. Hughes lost their lives in the crash. Bryson's wife, in Los Angeles, is said to be near death as a result of the shock of her husband's tragic end. Three others were injured.

The coroner's verdict set the blame for the smash upon a "lack of proper caution on the part of Alfred Wolf, operator of steam roller belonging to the city of Azusa."

The verdict ended a long debate and series of tests to demonstrate whether or not Wolf could have moved his big roller, even at the rate of only two or three miles an hour, the necessary distance of eight feet to clear the main line track in time to avoid the approaching train, which he first saw 1,000 feet away when it was making 60 miles an hour.

The jury urged the city council of Azusa to pass an ordinance regulating the speed of passenger trains within its limits.

PASADENA, March 24.—Seven section hands are in the Monrovia hospital, three of them expected to die, following their return at 3 a. m. today, from work upon the Santa Fe wreck at Azusa late yesterday afternoon. The men were speeding on a section gasoline car toward their headquarters at Arcadia, when the car crashed into the caboose at the rear end of a freight train at Monrovia, almost clear of the main line, on a side track.

FOUR SAN JOSE MEN OUT FOR CITY COUNCIL

SAN JOSE, March 24.—Four local men have so far entered the race for city council in this city. They are E. L. Stoppleworth, William E. Irons, Edward Distel and William J. Murphy, all well known business men and each with a large group of followers.

There will be two vacancies to be filled at the election May 1, the terms of E. E. Chase and W. L. Atkinson expiring. Those elected will serve a term of six years. The final date for registration is March 31, and according to county officials, the registration has been very light so far.

ORDER INQUIRY INTO WESTERN COAL RATES

Here's Demands of Miners In Threatened Coal Strike

CLEVELAND, O., March 24.—William Green, secretary treasurer of the United Mine workers, today stated four demands as a basis on which bituminous miners would negotiate with operators in an effort to avert the coal tie up. These were:

- 1—Renewal of present mining prices.
- 2—Settlement of local differences in various districts.
- 3—Six hour day, five day week, with time and half for overtime and double time on Sundays and holidays.
- 4—A two year contract effective from April 1, 1922 to April 1, 1924.

Little hope was held, however, operators would agree to negotiate on this basis, having previously refused to do so, it was stated.

4 DEAD, 4 MISSING, LOSS $2,000,000 IN KANSAS CLOUDBURST

(United Press Leased Wire) BURLINGTON, Kas., March 24.—(VIA RADIO)—Four persons are known dead, one woman is missing and property damage will total $2,000,000 as the result of the cloudburst which flooded this city last night and sent a five foot wall of water that increased to a depth of ten feet, through the principal business streets.

Rain that literally fell in sheets and totaled more than ten inches by early today inundated practically all the business section.

The wall of water came into the town from Rock Creek, a so-called "dry stream." It swept away twenty-five or more dwellings and carried wreckage and livestock on its crest as it smashed into the main part of town.

A score of business houses were inundated. Merchandise stocks were washed into the streets and the walls of several buildings caved in.

The light plant was put out of commission with the first rush of water and drenched survivors huddled in dark buildings all night.

Hazel Buhl and Margaret McCallian, telephone girls, were heroines of the disaster. As the water caved in buildings, they stuck to their posts and warned those in the path of the flood of the danger.

The dead are Miss Oletha Sailing, 18, whose body was found floating down Main street, and Mrs. Henry Ramsdell and Mr. and Mrs. Harry McGee, whose bodies were recovered late today by rescue parties.

The brunt of the damage was borne by three blocks in the business section where stocks of merchandise were destroyed, walls caved and buildings otherwise damaged. All wire communication with Burlington was cut off today.

GROUND BROKEN GETS JAIL TERM FOR NEW HOTEL AS ACCIDENT AFTERMATH

Visions of Santa Ana's new three-story hotel, to be erected at the northwest corner of Sixth and Main streets by the Fairhaven Land and Improvement company, were clarified this morning when about fifteen teams and as many more men, working under the direction of C. A. Williams, contractor, broke ground for the new structure.

The corner this morning presented a scene of great activity, which, judging from appearances, should do much to hasten the realization of the dreams of the promoters.

According to O. L. Haisell, the plans are not yet completed for the building, and the excavation work is being undertaken only to hasten the building when the contract is finally let.

The building will be three stories of terra cotta with brick facing, and will cost approximately $150,000. As soon as architects' plans and estimates are ready, bids will be received for the construction, and the contract will be let.

Wray tells why these sewer improvements are necessary. Every resident of the city of Santa Ana should read that article, every word of it.

The Illinois chief also denied a report that the Illinois miners had come to any kind of an agreement with the operators.

Wordy battles featured the policy committee session. Farrington, replying to a question as to why the Illinois miners were planning meetings with the operators before the strike, said it was in their contract and they had to.

An almost tearful plea to keep fighting until the victory was won was made by Fred Mooney, Mine county miner, under indictment in connection with the mine disturbances in West Virginia. President John L. Lewis of the miners, presented a general outline of the strike situation.

Assessment of local unions to swell the miners' "2,000,000 war chest," in anticipation of a prolonged walk-out, was expected.

It was reported this afternoon Warren S. Stone, chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, had called at miners headquarters to talk with Lewis in regard to aid railroad brotherhoods would give miners in the strike.

CABINET OFFICERS SEEK TO AVERT STRIKE

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Ways of avoiding a coal mine tieup on April 1 was one of the principal topics of discussion at the meeting today of President Harding and his cabinet. It was indicated, Attorney General Daugherty and Secretary of Labor Davis were expected to present suggestions for action by the executive.

Action by the president probably would take the course of inviting the operators' and miners' representatives to a conference in Washington. Harding feels that a strike at this time would seriously interfere with the revival of business and is known to be anxious for a settlement of the controversy.

Democrats Plan Anti-Bonus Fight In Senate as Bill Passes House

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The soldier bonus bill was referred to the senate finance committee today after Republican leaders declined to respond to queries of Senator Harrison as to when it would be reported back to the senate.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The soldiers bonus bill, shunted to the senate after a triumphant 338 to 70 passage in the house, must have action in the upper body or Democrats will try embarrassing tactics against the Republicans.

Arrival in the senate will be the signal for starting action. The Republicans will be asked some "pertinent questions" by Senator Harrison, Mississippi, Democrat.

The Harrison's questions will include: 1—Is this bill to be smothered in committee until next year? 2—Does the committee honestly intend to get action or will there be only ruse?

Harrison wishes either to compel action at this session or give the Democrats campaign material on which to accuse the Republicans of delay and inactivity. The bill has now become a rather non-partisan measure.

Chairman McCumber of the finance committee insists the senate will pass the bill without radical alterations.

OPPONENTS OF TREATY SWAMPED

Backers of Alliance Poll 67 Votes to 27 by Opposition Party

RESERVATION BY BRANDEGEE WINS

Johnson Loses By Big Margin In Fight to Change Treaty

(United Press Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, March 24.—The United States today went into partnership with Great Britain, France and Japan to keep the peace of the Pacific, when the senate ratified the four power Pacific treaty.

Vote on the ratification was 67 to 27.

Thirty-one roll calls were taken before ratification was finally obtained.

The United States is the first to ratify the treaty, which also scraps the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

This was four votes more than the necessary two-thirds majority needed to ratify.

Attached to the treaty was the Brandegee reservation, approved by President Harding, which states that the United States in ratifying the treaty understands that it contains no commitment to armed force, no alliance and no obligation to come to any defense.

Ratifications came after administration forces in more than four hours of roll calls, had swept down to defeat all reservations and amendments, except the one sponsored by Brandegee.

The action today clears the way for rapid ratification of the naval limitations treaty and other pacts growing out of the arms conference, hostile forces having concentrated their attack on the four power treaty.

The four-power treaty disposed of the senate turned to the supplementary treaty excluding the mainland of Japan from operation of the four-power pact.

Lodge wanted to press this immediately; Robinson wanted it to go over until Monday, saying there would be an amendment requiring considerable time, and anyway, he was anxious for a holiday over the week-end. He finally objected formally to present consideration.

Lodge announced that it would be taken up tomorrow.

Clearing the way for ratification of the four-power treaty, administration forces swept down to defeat proposed amendments and reservations.

On the first vote, the Robinson amendment, binding the four signatory powers to refrain from entering into secret treaties, agreements or understandings with any other powers during the life of the present treaty, the vote was for rejection 32 to 61. This amendment Robinson later offered as a reservation.

The next vote was on agreeing to article one of the treaty. There was no real objection to it so it was overwhelmingly adopted 74 to 15.

A flood of reservations poured in this morning in advance of the voting. In addition to the six already presented, seven others were in printed forms on senators' desks when the senate met at noon. They include six by La Follette and one by Walsh, Montana.

Robinson's second reservation, stating that the United States stands all the powers will respect the rights and territory of every other nation and that if any outside nation

E. T. LANGLEY IS SENATE STRICKEN AT HIS OFFICE

E. T. Langley, well known pioneer Santa Ana lawyer and Civil War veteran, is confined to his home, 929 Spurgeon street, as a result of a paralytic stroke which he suffered while at work in his office yesterday.

Langley had just returned to his office after having been confined to his home for two weeks by influenza and was attempting to give some dictation to his stenographer when he complained of illness.

A physician who was called pronounced the malady a slight stroke, and ordered Langley taken to his home.

Langley suffered a similar stroke about four years ago.

Now Pronounce It

One recent encounter between British Indian police and a mob of ten thousand natives was not "played up" in American newspaper headlines.

The name of the town where the disturbances occurred was Tiruvannamalai.

"This town is one of the chief pilgrim centers of south India but is little visited by Europeans," explains a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographical society. "This ostracism is not because the occidental cannot pronounce the name to ask his way, as one wag suggests. Tiruvannamalai has forty large chattrams, or rest houses, while the only provision for the foreigner is a small bungalow of two rooms."

"Two great festivals every year and a fair every Tuesday assure the gathering of large numbers of natives," the bulletin continues. "During the Kartigal festival in November or December, 100 thousand pilgrims visit the finely carved temple or climb the 'holy fire hill' which gives the town its name. At such times, cholera frequently takes a heavy toll and for many years attempts have been made to improve the water supply."

"Four roads meet at Tiruvannamalai, three of them crossing the alluvial plain toward the north, south and east. The fourth road carries a heavy traffic over the Chengam pass into the Salem district. Thus the town is not only a famous religious center but an important entrepot of trade as well."

ALWAYS SOME DRAWBACK!

He was a struggling Scottish farmer, and he had the good fortune to win the hand of a widow who possessed in her own right the sum of 5000 pounds.

Shortly before the wedding a friend went to congratulate him. "It's a fine thing for ye, this weddin', Sandy!" he said.

"Ay, it's no' bad," replied the farmer. "No, bad? Why it's worth 5000 pounds for ye, isn't it?"

"No," sighed Sandy. "less than that. Ye see, 'will cost me 17 shillings and 6 pence for a marriage license!"—Edinburgh Scotsman.

tion's interests are involved in a controversy, that nation will be invited into conference, was defeated when he offered it as an amendment to article two. The vote was 33 to 59.

Main Point of Opponents

This proposal was the one upon which treaty opponents concentrated their efforts and the vote upon it was expected to show the high water mark of their strength. This would indicate enough votes were obtained to reject the treaty without this reservation. However, the final voting will be altered.

The senate defeated Shield's amendment, 13 to 74. It stated the United States becomes a party to the treaty for the sole purpose of keeping pace and adjusting differences among the other nations.

Senator Reed offered an amendment proposing that if any nation refused to concur in an understanding, reached under article two of the treaty, that nation should not be bound by that understanding. This was smothered by a vote of 29 to 62.

Reed offered another amendment to article two stating that "it is expressly understood that no nation shall by reason of any agreement arrived at be in any manner obligated to enter into warfare." It was rejected 27 to 65.

Senator Johnson fathered an amendment to article two, providing that in conferring on means to meet aggression from outside the powers should seek peaceful measures. It was beaten, 26 to 65.

At this juncture article two of the treaty was adopted, 66 to 23, indicating a safe majority for the treaty as a whole.

Two Senators Absent

Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, came into the chamber about 1 o'clock, having been delayed by a late train. This left only Crow, Pennsylvania, Republican, and Jones, New Mexico, Democrat, absent.

Reed next moved to limit the life of the treaty to ten years, but lost, 28 to 64.

Article three was agreed to, 67 to 26.

Article four of the treaty, providing for scrapping of the Anglo-Japanese alliance upon completion of ratification of the document, was adopted, 73 to 5.

After the amendments had been swept away and the four articles separately agreed to, the opposition began its efforts to tack reservations to the resolution of ratification. Every indication was that the vote on ratification, if differing at all from early forecasts, would differ in favor of the treaty.

Brandegee Reservation
Senator Lodge opened the discussion of reservations by presenting the Brandegee reservation adopted by the foreign relations committee. It states that the treaty contains no commitment to armed force, no alliance and no obligation to come to any defense.

Walsh, Montana, offered an amendment to the Brandegee reservation providing that outside nations whose interests are involved in controversies should be invited into conference with the four powers signing the treaty.

Walsh's reservation was beaten 36 to 55.

Robinson next offered a reservation the provision previously rejected as an amendment. It was rejected 36 to 55.

Pittman, Nevada, presented a reservation giving the United States the right to invite to a general conference any powers involved in a controversy over Pacific questions with any of the powers signing the present treaty.

Effort by LaFollette to pledge this government through a reservation to grant the Philippines independence failed 27 to 60.

Mrs. Harding Arrives
While voting proceeded Mrs. Harding entered "presidential row" in the gallery.

Pittman offered a reservation giving the United States the right to decide for itself what a "domestic" problem is and hence what lies outside the treaty's jurisdiction. It lost 25 to 65.

By 29 to 63, the senate rejected the Johnson reservation, providing that "the most efficient measures" to be taken under article two, to meet external aggression, "shall be peaceful measures."

Johnson's reservation, which stated the United States assumes neither moral nor legal obligation to maintain the rights of the other powers in their Pacific possessions and requiring congressional assent to agreements under the treaty, was turned down, 28 to 64.

Johnson Loses Again
This was the so-called original Brandegee reservation abandoned by the leaders, because of presidential opposition.

A reservation by Robinson binding each of the four powers not to make secret treaties with any other power during the life of the present treaty was rejected, 32 to 60, on the 24th roll call of the afternoon.

Reed made another try, with a reservation stating that the United States could withdraw when any other party to the pact in the judgment of the president of the United States or of congress wrongly make war. He fell short, 28 to 63.

Treaty supporters defeated 36 to 62 the La Follette reservation providing that the Anglo-Japanese alliance may not be renewed during the life of the present pact.

Another adverse vote of 27 to 59 was recorded on the LaFollette proposal that the powers agree not to enter into treaties with any other power, relative to their Pacific possessions, which shall prejudice the rights of any of the signers of the present treaty.

Defeat was meted out, 17 to 84 to the La Follette reservation binding all the powers to abrogate any existing treaties, secret or otherwise which are inconsistent with the new pact.

Reed presented still another amendment, whereby any signatory of the treaty could withdraw upon two years' notice. It was defeated, 28 to 63.

After rejecting all other amendments and reservations, the senate adopted the Brandegee reservation which had previously been accepted by President Harding.

Spencer, Missouri, was the only Republican opposing the reservation, Williams, Mississippi, Democrat, was the only other senator voting in the negative.

This reservation, which thereupon became a part of the resolution of ratification, reads:

"The United States understands that under the statement in preamble or under terms of this treaty there is no commitment to armed force, nor alliance, no obligation to join in any defense."

PROBE DEATH OF TWO IN CRASH AT BEACH

The death of Mrs. Millicent M. Deming, 30, at a Long Beach hospital had completed today the toll of life taken when an automobile driven by Walter E. Guy, Santa Ana business man, crashed into a P. E. freight train at East Long Beach, instantly killing Guy and fracturing the woman's skull. Mrs. Deming died late yesterday.

An inquest over the two bodies was set for 2 p. m. today at the undertaking establishment of Holton and Son, in Long Beach. Mrs. Guy left Santa Ana early today to attend the inquest over the body of her husband.

Guy, driving a Ford coupe and accompanied by Mrs. Deming, was traveling along Anaheim road in East Long Beach at 2:30 a. m. yesterday, when his car struck a freight train standing on the Pacific Electric crossing. That the train was not in motion was stated by trainmen after the crash.

Mrs. Deming was rushed to the Seaside hospital, where she lingered for about twelve hours.

It was announced in Long Beach today that the woman, who had been widowed for several months and who came to San Pedro from Montana recently with her two children and her mother, was residing in Long Beach at the time of her death.

Guy had a wife and son living in San Diego. The couple had been separated. Guy was formerly in the tire business in San Diego, as a partner of his brother, J. Hubert Guy, son-in-law of Mrs. Schumann Heink, the noted singer. The brother is now in a sanitarium at Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Sam Hill, former partner of Guy in the tire business here, Lester Tubbs and other local men expected to attend the inquest at Long Beach this afternoon.

"HEAD TAX" ON HIRED HELP BERLIN'S PLAN

BERLIN, March 24.—In a mad search for additional revenue to fill the empty city treasury the municipal council of Berlin is going over all taxable objects with a fine tooth comb.

They have now hit upon a new tax called a "head tax" for employers. Whoever employs 20 or more workmen or other employees must pay 100 marks head tax for each employee.

The new tax follows the recent "night life tax" for those who stay out late at night. All those who attend balls or frequent resorts after 1 o'clock in the morning must pay a special tax.

SUICIDE MOVES IN CUMBERLAND DEATH BARE

Investigation of the death of Julian F. Cumberland, wealthy Los Angeles man whose body was found March 4 on the sands at Sunset Beach, was dropped today upon receipt of information which, in the minds of the authorities, plainly established the tragedy as a case of suicide.

This information, discovered by Los Angeles police detectives, revealed that the "suicide note" received by his family on the day before his body was found, was not only in the dead man's handwriting but was written at his own desk in a Highland Park real estate office.

It was also shown that on the occasion that he was last seen alive, he alighted from a street car near the Los Angeles postoffice only a few minutes before the note received by his family was mailed, as revealed by the postmark. This precluded the possibility that he could have been lured in the meantime to some place where the note might have been written under duress.

Drop Murder Theory.

That theory having been eliminated, together with the recent abandonment of the poison theory, following an analysis of the dead man's stomach contents, the detectives have further reason to doubt a suicide theory, Sheriff C. E. Jackson said today.

The report of Detective Sergeant Cline, Cato and Cahill, of Los Angeles, was forwarded to Jackson by Chief of Police James W. Everington, of Los Angeles.

Following Cumberland's movements on the day he was last seen alive, they found that March 2 he had arranged with the Highland Park investment company, to work out of that office on a commission basis. He was assigned a desk and given a key.

Early March 3 he visited the office, it was shown by the fact that he left his key on the desk. It was found also that the ink at his desk matched exactly the ink with which the suicide note was written. Business associates, the detectives said, also declared that the note was worded in Cumberland's style of expression.

Makes Preparations.

Leaving the realty office, presumably after writing the note there, he bought some groceries and went home. Here was found further evidence of preparation for some act. Cumberland had emptied his pockets on his desk in his home. Then he started down town, alighting at the post office, as stated. The note was mailed in a stamped envelope, usually purchased at post offices. This fact bore out the belief that he had mailed the note himself at the post office.

The detectives also located a pile of railroad iron near a small P. E. station at Sunset beach, where a former spur track had been torn up. Pieces of the iron matched the weight that was wired around Cumberland's neck. They found numerous pieces of baling wire in the vicinity, the officers said. This was about half a mile from where the body was found.

Sheriff Jackson accepted the opinion of the detectives that Cumberland had ended his own life by strangling himself with the wire and then walked into the water until he dropped.

To Drop Probe.

"We will go into the matter no further," Jackson said today. "I only wanted to be sure of whether it was suicide or murder. There were certain aspects of that note that appeared suspicious to me and I wasn't willing to let it go as a suicide without an investigation."

WALL ST. JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW

NEW YORK, March 24.—Steels and motors once more were strong on the New York stock exchange today but there was a continuation of pressure of sugar stocks.

Advance in steel issues was in anticipation of advance in prices by the United States Steel corporation. Studebaker furnished fireworks of the motor division, making new high for the year under heavy buying.

As pointed out by Dow Jones and company, prices in the market are due as much to a weak technical position as anything else. However, traders used the reduction in prices today as another excuse for selling this group.

There was little in the news to affect the market one way or another. The head of the largest coal distributing company in Chicago does not expect a long coal strike and says his company is not filling its yards to capacity. Bonus legislation is going through, according to progress in prices. Apparently has ceased to be a market factor. Call money was 4-5-4 percent throughout the session. Foreign exchange was steady.

DENTIST'S GOLD THEFT SUSPECT IS ARRAIGNED

Pleading not guilty to a charge of burglary and admitting in court that his true name was not Arthur Scott but Arthur Foster, that individual was arraigned today before Superior Judge Z. B. West, who set his trial for next Friday at 1 p. m.

Foster was represented by Attorney L. F. Coburn, of Orange, appointed by the court for that purpose.

His arrest took place in Anaheim recently when Dr. W. J. Lawie, Anaheim dentist, entered his offices and found Foster inside, it was claimed.

Foster asserted he had been locked in by a man whom he had accompanied to the offices under the impression that the other was the dentist and was going to treat Foster's teeth. A quantity of gold, alleged to belong to the dentist, was said to have been found on Foster.

WOMAN, 32, MOTHER OF TWO TOTS, DIES

Friends were shocked at the announcement of the death today of Mrs. Margaret Gulick, 32, wife of George A. Gulick, 1712 Spurgeon street, following an operation performed a little more than a week ago.

Mrs. Gulick leaves, in addition to her husband, two children, Herbert, aged 5, and Baby Viola, fourteen months old; her parents, Captain and Mrs. D. S. Forbes, and five sisters, the Misses Clara, Vera and Grace Forbes, all of Tacoma; Mrs. Lillian Rinkerberger, Seattle, and Mrs. Montgomery, whose arrival from England is expected daily.

The family is English, and came to the United States when Mrs. Gulick was fourteen.

In Tacoma she studied nursing and graduated from St. Joseph's hospital, later taking post-graduate work at the Good Samaritan hospital, Los Angeles.

She and Mr. Gulick had made their home in Santa Ana for more than a year, previous to which time they had resided in Orange county for seven years.

Funeral arrangements will not be completed until definite word is received from the relatives at Tacoma.

ALLEGED WHEEL THIEF FACES DOUBLE CHARGE

Trial of Francisco Martinez, who faces the double charge of petty larceny and of a previous conviction of crime, was today set by Superior Judge Z. B. West for April 17 at 1 p. m.

Martinez, represented by Attorney John Clarkson, of Santa Ana, pleaded not guilty to both charges today. The petty larceny charge is that of stealing a $25 bicycle from E. Quintora January 30. Ordinarily this alleged offense would have constituted a misdemeanor and would have been tried in justice court, but the alleged fact of the previous conviction elevates it to the status of a felony.

The alleged previous conviction was connected with the theft of another bicycle.

MARIN DIRECTORS O. K. ROAD UP TAMALPAIS

SAN RAFAEL, March 24.—Approval was given by the board of directors of the Marin municipal water district of the proposed construction of a scenic road from Ridgecrest, near Fairfax, to the summit of Mount Tamalpais.

The proposed route will be an extension of the Bolinas Ridge road. It was announced by M. H. Ballou and E. J. Thomas of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce, that the probable method of defraying the cost of construction, estimated at $84,000, will be by charging a nominal toll for automobiles.

PROMINENT CITIZENS GROW WHISKERS FOR 'DAYS OF '49' SHOW

(United Press Leased Wire) SACRAMENTO, March 24.—More than 200 leading Sacramento citizens asked for certificates showing they had been shaved by their barbers today. For this was the last day on which members of the Whisker club, formed to lead a "days of '49" celebration in May, can shave before the celebration takes place.

Liberal prizes will be awarded the citizens showing the most luxuriant foliage when the celebration takes place.

A bulletin issued at 3 a. m., today declared City Manager Clyde Seavey leading all contestants in the Whisker club, with a beard of generous proportions marking the end of his first week in the race.

It also announced election of Zack Taylor of Carson City, Nev., an honorary member. He is said to carry a 14 foot beard, the biggest in the West.

The child was found drowned in the swimming pool at the Hoover home.

Hoover, who was much attached to the child, was deeply affected. The secretary will leave for Denver Saturday night.

POSSE SEEKS NEGRO ASSAILANT OF GIRL

(United Press Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, March 24.—Scores of men with bloodhounds were searching the region around Jackson Station, Virginia, a few miles from the capital, today for the negro assailant of Agnes Hawkins, 25, government employee. There was open talk of lynching.

The girl was brutally attacked, then chained, in a fainting state, in the barn behind her home. Becoming conscious after several hours, she dragged herself to a neighbor's home, where a doctor said her condition was serious.

CLAIM GHOST GUEST AT CLUB'S BANQUET

(United Press Leased Wire) LOS ANGELES, March 24.—The ghost of Dr. James Martin Peebles, who died February 15, is alleged by spiritualists to have made a speech last night at a dinner in honor of his one hundredth birthday anniversary.

Dr. Guy Bogart acted as medium. He quoted Dr. Peebles as desiring to say that he was enjoying himself in Astraland, but despite the joys to be found there, he strongly advised that life on earth be prolonged to the utmost.

Dr. Bogart turned pale and frequently mopped the perspiration from his forehead. About 500 members of the Long Life club gathered in a "banquet hall" over a cafeteria to hear the speech. Simultaneously Mrs. Suzie MacFarland Page staged a rival celebration in a theater. However, Dr. Peebles' ghost failed to attend.

Just before the festivities Dr. Peebles' ashes were scattered by the Sunshine club.

Recently Organized Club Plays Bridge at Regular Meeting

Mrs. Guy Gilbert was a delightful hostess yesterday afternoon to members of a little informal club organized a short time ago for the enjoyment of an occasional afternoon of bridge.

The Gilbert home, 611 Bishop street, offered a pleasant welcome with a number of attractive spring flowers used in decoration. Two tables were used for cards and the honors were carried off by Mrs.
Kensil Brown, who received an attractive bath towel and wash cloth set as a prize.

Mrs. Elmer Preston, Mrs. Randolph and Mrs. Charles D. Brown were special guests for the afternoon, while club members present included Mesdames Verne Bishop, John Criddle, Kensil Brown, A. L.
Santor and C. D. Ocala. Miss Margaret Sortor, Miss Prudence Macomber and the hostess, Mrs. Gilbert.

At the conclusion of the series of games, Mrs. Gilbert served appetizing refreshments of salad, sandwiches and coffee.

Y. W. C. A.

Enthusiasm reigned among forty members of the Junior College Y.
W. C. A. meeting last night at the First Presbyterian church with Miss Bertha Selway presiding, assisted by Miss Isabel Anderson, secretary of the organization.

A number of interesting talks were given by members and guests.
Miss Adele Johnston opening the program with a discussion of the World Fellowship work. Miss Belv-Barnes told of the University of Southern California conference which she recently attended, and Miss Dorothy Carothers discussed
Asiomatic and the advantages offered by it to all Y. workers for summer rest, study or recreation.

Mrs. Robert Northcross discussed the work and aims of the Y. W. and kindred organizations, while Miss Bertha Selway, president, gave an outline of the future plans of the local organization.

Members of the Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyterian church served the refreshments which followed the program, and which were delicious and appetizing.

In addition to the members of Y.
W. C. A., there were a number of invited, who included:

Mrs. C. F. Smith, Mrs. A. J. Crookshank, Mrs. John Clarkson, Mrs. C.
M. Neely, Mrs. J. A. Stevenson,

rence Robinson, while members of the high school faculty present included Miss Mabel Whiting, Miss Lulu Finley, Mrs. Robert North-cross, Miss Etta Conkle, Miss Jennie Lasby, Miss Mary Harris and Miss Isabel Anderson.

Fraternal Brotherhood

An amusing program arranged by W. G. Gould yielded an unusually lively evening for members of the Fraternal Brotherhood meeting last night at M. W. A. hall.

A cakewalk in which six couples participated, served most effectively as an ice-breaker and the prize of a splendid cake was bestowed upon Miss Ruby Hayes and her partner,
Mr. Robinson. In a waltz and two-step contest, Miss Addie Trickey and Mr. Huber were awarded the prize for being the most graceful dancers, and the committee of judges, J. W.
Johnson, James Ryan and O. D. King, who labored so hard in making the decision, were then given the opportunity to display their own dancing skill.

The cakewalk which they presented literally brought down the house, to the point where the hot coffee and doughnuts provided as refreshments, proved life-savers.

Cuticura Healed Eruptions On Baby's Arms Body and Legs

"My baby's trouble began with little red spots on her arms, body and legs. After a time the eruptions got bigger and itched terribly causing her to scratch and irritate the affected parts, and I had to change her clothing quite often to relieve her. She was cross and fretful and would toss about in her bed and keep me awake for hours.

"I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using them about four days she got relief. I bought more and in three weeks she was healed." (Signed)
Mrs. A. Elkins, 855 W. So. Temple
St., Salt Lake City, Utah.

For every purpose of the toilet and bath, Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum are wonderfully good.

bers of the Wednesday Afternoon Whist club enjoyed a merry social evening in company with their husbands, last night as guests of Mr.
and Mrs. C. A. Tucker, 825 South

The pretty home was adorned with pink sweet peas and "everlasting," forming a rosy background for decorations reminiscent of St. Patrick's day, which Mrs. Tucker used.

Progressive whist was the chosen game for the evening, and when scores were tallied, Mr. Forrest Collar was found to hold high score among the men, thus receiving the first prize while Mr. Grant Helder-man received consolation.

Mrs. Louis Rhell and Mrs. Lysle Fargahar was consoling with an amusing gift for her poor luck in scoring.

James' Gold Room Scene of Smart Luncheon With Covers for Twenty-five

Mrs. Elmer L. Crawford of 306
South Main street, was the charming hostess to a little group of friends yesterday when she entertained with a luncheon.

James' gold room was the scene of the affair, which, while decidedly informal, was extremely smart in its details of decorations, favors and menu. Mrs. Crawford's guest list included her closest friends, thus giving the affair a charming air of intimacy. Places were indicated for twenty-five.

Ebell Travelers

Unusually interesting in its various phases was the paper on "Travels and Descriptions of California," prepared by Mrs. George Reyburn, of Garden Grove, and presented yesterday afternoon before her fellow members of the Fourth Travel section of Ebell club.

The meeting was at the home of Mrs. F. L. Anderson, 310 South Ross street, and twenty members were present to enjoy the occasion.

In her excellent paper, Mrs. Reyburn spoke of the first book descriptive of California, having been written at the mission of San Juan Capistrano. Among the famous harties she discussed was Bret Harte whom she designated as "The Kipling of California," and whose many stories and books of the state, she touched upon.

George Wharton James also was discussed together with his books on American Indians and the missions, while in regard to Edwin Markham whose famous "Man With the Hoe" he would render him noted had he no other claims to literary fame. Mrs.
Reyburn told how the Landmark society of San Jose had purchased and restored his old home.

"The Three Johns" was the speaker's classification of the beloved naturalist John Muir, the equally famous one, John Burroughs and our own John McGoarty, whose contributions to literature and science she dwelt upon in detail.

In adding the name of McGoarty
to the trio of celebrated men Mrs.
Reyburn declared that his writings on the missions as well as those on reclaiming the desert and rebuilding San Francisco were only a few of the things to give him an honored place in the hearts of his statesmen.

Following the program, a committee composed of Mrs. A. M. Cox, Mrs.
G. R. Randall and Mrs. J. B. Stewart was appointed to arrange details of the baked goods sale which the section will hold in conjunction with the music section, at Chafee's grocery tomorrow forenoon. All members have been asked to contribute articles of food to the sale.

The section will hold its April meeting with Mrs. E. L. Madden, 605 1/2 South Birch street.

Ebell Club

Members of the ways and means committee of Ebell club were receiving the congratulations of their friends today, upon their success in arranging for the appearance in this city of the dramatic class and faculty members of Pomona college who will present "Hamlet" at the high school auditorium Friday night,
April 7.

The proceeds from the Shakespearean offering will be devoted to the building fund of the proposed Ebell clubhouse.

H. C. P. Club

On account of the illness and consequent absence of the president, Miss Bertha Weers, the business session of the H. C. P. club was brief when the members met Tuesday night at the home of Miss Dickey Dixon, 1038 West Third street.

Music and redwork shared the interest of the club members who welcomed as a guest, Mrs. Mafr of Arizona, a sister of the hostess. At a late hour in the evening, Miss Dixon served ice fruit punch and delicious cake to her guests who included Mrs.
Mafr, Misses Helen Pierpont, Clara
Kramer, Ida Gerken, Ora Napoleon,
Daisy Shields, Hazel Conner, June
Watts and Pearl Stuley.

Don't overlook the big Sunday
Chicken Dinner at 65 cents, served from 11 a. m. to 8 p. m. Laurel Cafe, 112 West Third Street.

Well Known Little Dancer of New York, Welcomed by Girlhood Friends

Extending a warm and cordial welcome to one of Santa Ana's daughters who is making a name and a career for herself in the world, are friends of Miss Virginia Bell, who takes the opportunity to greet her when she spends the daily hours
here with her mother and brother,
Mrs. Thomas Creed and Randolph
Bell.

Mrs. Creed and Mr. Bell motored into Los Angeles last night with the celebrated little dancer, and enjoyed the performance of "The Follies."
They were accompanied on the homeward trip by Miss Bell, who is spending today in Pomona with Mrs. Harry Walker, the mother of one of her dearest school friends.

Yesterday morning, an attendance at the high school assembly, recalled all the pleasant associations of not very far distant schooldays, although Miss Bell refused to talk to the assembled pupils. "I am not a speaker," she said modestly, "I should have no idea what to say, but I surely enjoyed greeting everybody."

The afternoon was spent in calling upon and receiving calls from girlhood friends, and in the rest and relaxation which Santa Ana affords after a strenuous season in Eastern cities.

Tuesday night, Miss Bell was the guest of Miss Ruth St. Denis in Los Angeles where other guests included many persons famous in the dramatic world.

INADEQUATE SEWER SYSTEM IS ACTUAL MENACE TO CITY, SAYS WRAY, URGING BONDS' PASSAGE

"Why should the sewer bonds be carried?"

The question was asked today of Walter Wray, superintendent of sewers.

"Because Santa Ana today is not adequately sewered, that's why," he replied. "Because our outfalls today are not big enough to carry the sewage of this city during the summer, and we have to dump some of the sewage into a drainage ditch, and therefore every year have the district attorney and grand jury on our trail, that's why. Because Santa Ana is growing and has an area that is unserved, which means that there exists a menace to health, that's why."

Wray had a number of other "that's whys," but these few are, briefly, some of the outstanding reasons that he advanced. He believes it his duty as a public official to make the situation plain to anybody who will take the time to investigate.

Maps showing what is proposed to be done are posted in the corridor at the city hall. They are there for public inspection.

Two Items

The sewer proposals are to appear on the ballot under two items. No. 1 is a proposal for $172,000, which is Santa Ana's share of the outfall and treatment plant. A treatment plant on the west side of the Santa Ana river a short distance south of the Greenville-Talbert paved road. From that point a 36-inch outfall to the ocean is to be built.

The second item on the ballot is for $149,000. This is to pay for giving Santa Ana connections to the treatment plant and outfall. With it Anaheim has nothing to do. At the present time, Santa Ana has two outfalls. One of them is a 12-inch (get the size of this line in mind), says Wray, line running south on Bristol street joining the sugar factory outfall now in use. There is another line running west on Myrtle street to the old city septic tank east of Sullivan street and from the septic tank to the sewer farm.

Cites Congestion
"Each summer," said Wray, "this 12-inch line on Bristol connecting with the sugar factory line carries all it can possibly carry. We have to divert the surplus to the Myrtle street sewer farm line. When the peak of the load is flowing, the sewer comes to the old septic tank on the sewer farm line more rapidly than the sewage can pass through the tank. When that happens we have to do one of two things, either let the septic tank overflow run into the drainage ditch or let the line fill up and let the sewage flow out of the manholes back toward the city. We let the surplus flow into the drainage ditch. Naturally, we have protests from the residents down that way, and we have the district attorney continually on our trail."

"How long can a city like Santa Ana afford to keep up that kind of thing? How long will the authorities stand for it? How long will the residents down that way stand for it? My opinion is that we have reached the absolute limit."

To remedy the situation, the new outfall together with two adequate connecting sub-main lines are proposed by the city authorities.

Propose New Line

To replace the 12-inch line on Bristol as far south as the septic tank, and a new line from the Bristol street septic tank southwesterly to the Old Newport and Delhi corner, a 24-inch line is proposed. This will be the outlet for the southern and eastern part of the city. The lay of the ground is such that it will make severing possible for territory south of the present city limits should that territory be annexed, as it seems it certainly will as Santa Ana grows.

There is to be a main 27-inch line from the corner of Old Newport and Delhi roads to the treatment plant. This will carry the sewage from the Bristol street line outlined in the preceding paragraph and also the sewage from the second proposed sub-main line, which will be built as follows:

Plan Sub-Main

A 20-inch line north on Old Newport road to Edinger, then 600 feet east on Edinger to Center street, which is a street showing on the map east of Sullivan. This proposed street will be followed and with the 20-inch line to the old septic tank on the present sewer farm line, on Myrtle street if Myrtle street were extended west. The line will be laid deep to take the present Myrtle street sewer farm line output. Also from this point, under the bond issue, a 12-inch line is to be laid due north to a point about forty feet west of the wooden bridge on West Fifth street.

What will this sub-line accomplish?
According to Wray, it will make the sewerage of all of the city's territory north and west of Artesia street possible. Several hundred houses now using cesspools can be connected with the sewer system under a district plan. Owing to the character of the soil west and north of Artesia streets, which area is not now sewered and cannot be sewered under the city's system as it now is, cesspools are operated very unsatisfactorily and are hard to maintain. Health authorities of the city say that it is highly important to the health of the entire city that this area be placed under the sewer system.

System Outgrown
"Santa Ana has outgrown its sewer system," said Wray. "Even if we could use the sugar factory outfall as we are now doing by reason of the good will of the sugar company, we are right square up against this condition: That our connecting line to the sugar factory outfall is only a 12-inch line and is not big enough to carry this city's sewage; that the line to the old sewer farm, which takes the surplus when the 12-inch line is crowded full, cannot handle the surplus and this city is driven to the breaking of the state law. We might as well confess it. We do break the law by forcing our sewage into the open ditch of the Delhi drainage district."

"This is a matter of tremendous importance to this city. It is far more serious than most people know. If everybody in this city fully realized how serious is the condition, those

Dr. and Mrs. U. G. Littell were Sunday visitors from Santa Ana at the home of Mrs. Littell's brother, W. W. Blaylock.

L. E. Preston, who has been very ill for some weeks, was given a second blood infusion the past week but did not seem to rally so well from it as from the first. Mr. Preston, who is at the Anaheim sanatorium is very anxious to return home, and if the change is made it will be necessary to bring him by ambulance.

Pipe setting at the Painted Hills oil well on the Graham lease has been finished to the depth of 3200 feet. Work has been discontinued for a few days and it is understood that there is a prospect of the mud settling in such a manner that cementing will not at present be necessary.

Mrs. Frank Ulrich and daughter, Miss Cleo Ulrich, are both confined to their beds again this week. They had partially recovered from recent illness when the relapse came.

The G. M. Robinson home is undergoing a season of remodeling.

Mrs. J. J. Graham moved to Huntington Beach Monday and brought Mrs. Walter Graham to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ulrich at Wintersburg, to remain a few days during the absence of her husband. Graham left Monday morning for the Painted Hills oil well in the Whitewater vicinity, taking a truckload of well tools from the local Painted Hills well where he is employed.

A hot water heater was installed at the Albert Ruoff home this week. Esther Wallace, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Wallace, was quite ill for a couple of days, due to the eating of frozen oranges.

Mrs. R. E. Turner had the misfortune to step on a rusty nail Monday, which went through her shoe and penetrated her foot for some distance. The nail was in a board lying in the grass beneath the clothes line where she was hanging out clothes.

The R. J. Morgan children, Lena, Richard and Lee, have been absent from school since Monday on account of having the mumps. The three smaller children in the family are also ill with the same disease. Several of the children recently had the mumps on one side and the second attack is following closely with the result that all are having them at the same time.

Mrs. Lloyd Edwards has been ill with influenza the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Graham attended a ball game at Anaheim Sunday in company with Mrs. Graham's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Stuart, and a party of friends from Huntington Beach.

Miss Elizabeth Goehard and Miss Ethel Goehard, morning and afternoon operators of the Smeltzer switchboard, went Saturday evening to El Segundo, where they remained as overnight and Sunday guests of Mrs. Arthur Owens who, until recently was night operator at Smeltzer. "Don't get the idea that carrying of these sewer bonds means anything to me financially. It won't increase my salary one cent. It will give me a whole lot more work to do. But it is my duty to lay the situation fully before the city trustees, and that I have done."

ELECTRIC PLANT AT RIVERSIDE PROFITABLE

"From your experience, is it advisable for a city to own its own electric light plant? To own its own street lighting plant?"

Horace Porter, former mayor of Riverside, and C. W. Kolner, city manager of Pasadena, gave emphatic answers of "yes" to these questions, which were among a number propounded to them by W. W. Hoy, former city engineer, as chairman of a committee appointed by the Santa Ana Realty board to investigate conditions in those cities and experiences in operating municipal plants.

The board committee consisted of Hoy, John Garrie, W. L. Deimling and Horace Porter, and the answers to Hoy's questionnaire were submitted by the committee chairman without recommendation to the meeting of the board at James's gold room at noon today.

"Was the erection of a plant a white elephant to the city as to first cost or as to operation?" was another question Hoy asked, and Porter and Kolner both answered "no." The questions were sent to a number of other cities. Answers had not been received from all. Anaheim did not answer.

Riverside Makes Profit
Riverside is making a net profit of $50,000 annually from its plant. Porter asserts. The city is now buying wholesale from the Edison company and is redistributing to domestic consumers at 6 cents, according to Porter, although City Clerk Burns recently told The Register that the domestic consumer rate there was 8 cents.

"Our next step," says Porter, "should be some method of generating our own power, or getting it at cost of production from the government. This done, our electric light and power would be exceedingly cheap, quite as cheap as that of Los Angeles."

"If Riverside were getting its power at, let us say, six-tenths of a cent per kilowatt hour (which it would under public ownership), we would greatly decrease our rates. As it is, paying these high wholesale rates and retaining lower than the private corporations, Riverside city makes a handsome profit of more than $50,000 a year out of its municipal power plant, after allowing for all costs or expense for sinking fund, upkeep, new construction, operating expenses, etc."

As To Glendale
P. Diederich, superintendent of the electric plant at Glendale, says "we have never owned a generating plant. We have always purchased our electricity from the distributor at wholesale rates and we do not think it advisable, at the present wholesale rates, to generate in view of the high investment cost which would allow for duplicate units so as to be able to give continuous service in case of trouble in our generating plant."

Glendale has a consumer minimum rate of 80 cents for seven kilowatts and charges 5 cents for each kilowatt in excess.

Declaring that the Edison company is retarding the development of Santa Ana, Mayor John G. Mitchell urged that voters support the proposed issue of $75,000 to install a generating plant at the water works. The mayor intimated that with the funds for such purposes limited more ornamental lighting systems could not be lighted unless the Edison company should reduce its rate.

W. L. Deimling, district manager for the light company, suggested that the formation of lighting districts offered a way out of the dilemma. He said that in Los Angeles property owners were paying seven-eighths of the lighting costs on ornamental systems and the city one-eighth.

In view of the fact that it appeared that questions propounded to officials of different cities in efforts to develop information relative to generating plants operated by municipalities were not clearly put, the committee appointed two weeks ago to make investigations were continued for another week. It was the opinion that the answers applied to distributing plants where current is bought wholesale rather than to generating plants.

Elmer Jahraus, who was greeted last week as the realtors' candidate for assemblyman from this county, today expressed his appreciation of the courtesy and confidence evidenced, but declared that he could not think of being a candidate because of the condition of his health.

The board will meet hereafter at St. Ann's Inn.

Wisseling

Wisseling is the easiest and cheapest way to make music. The bummiest wisselers are the ones that wissel the most, proving quantity and quality is 2 different things.

If a fellow wissels good everybody considers it is no more than his dooty, but if a girl wissels good everybody thinks she is grate. This proves just because a thing is unexpected it gets a lot of credit. One of the saddest sites to listen to is a girl that thinks she can wissel if she's the only one thinks so and everybody elts knows different.

Some people are the only ones that know wat theyre wisseling and others dont even know themselves. This proves the amount of ignorants in the world.

No matter how bum of a wisseler you are you always enjoy it yourself, proving wisseling is never intirely wasted, and also proving just because you're having a good time that dont say everybody elts.

The best way to call a dog is to wissel to it, but on the contrary you could wissel to a cat all day without making it act any different.

The scarcest way to wissel is throo your fingers, hardly any fellows being able to do it good, and no girls. Some good times not to wissel is in school, in church, and wen your father is giving you heck.

SET HEARING DAY IN CLOTHES THEFT CASE

Superior Judge R. Y. Williams today fixed next Monday at 9:30 a. m. as the time for R. L. La Salle, charged with grand larceny, to answer to arraignment.

La Salle is accused of stealing clothing and a stickpin, to the total value of $200, from P. B. Hardin of this city. La Salle and Hardin had rooms across the hall from one another, and it was said that La Salle frequently borrowed wearing apparel from Hardin. Then La Salle took Hardin's clothing to outfit his friend, George Nyberg, and the two left town, Hardin complained to the authorities.

La Salle and Nyberg were arrested at San Bernardino. At the preliminary hearing before Justice J. B. Cox, Nyberg established his innocence and was released.

La Salle was represented in court today by Attorney John B. Nichols.

'HOUSE' AND 'HOME' DIFFER, IS SHOWN

BY THE REV. J. A. STEVENSON
(Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church)

The passion for possession is instinctive in the human heart. The objects of desire are various, and the taste of him who desires changes with increasing age and wisdom. The average man and woman is quite particular in some respects. One desires his own hat, tooth brush and wife or husband. The value of exclusive ownership is not even debatable. Ownership has a reflex value. It gives a man an inside consciousness of worth. His chest swells when he says, "My car," "My home," "One must cultivate a sense of values."

Many of the things that one may own are scarcely worth the exertion of obtaining or the anxiety of retaining. A rich man once said that he has passed half of his life getting his money from others and the other half of his life in trying to keep others from getting his money from him.

But it is always worth while to get a home. Getting a home imposes upon the great majority of persons the necessity of economy. In order to make the payments they are compelled to deny themselves some things that they would otherwise buy. This is invaluable education. It establishes and cultivates a sense of values and leads to habits that are of great benefit. In fact, the habit may really be of more value than the house.

It is to be noted that it is the owning of a home that is advocated, not the purchase of a house and lot. Money can buy a lot and build a house upon it but as the poet says, "It takes a lot of living to make a home." There is more involved here than a real estate transaction. There is a heart element as well as a head element in owning a home.

The soil in your garden smells sweeter when you spade the garden in the morning if it is your own soil that you spade. Your own roses have a more delightful fragrance. Who desires a rented rose? The wood in the house becomes saturated with personality and affection when the rented house is transformed into a possessed home.

Then we must be mindful that riches have a way of getting into an airplane and flying away. Vast numbers of persons can make money but few can invest it wisely. Stocks may lose their value, bonds may be repudiated, a note may prove to be uncollectable but a home will abide. It may not return as great a money interest but it will afford a better security. Life would be immeasurably more comfortable for many elderly persons if they had but secured a home in their younger days.

It is to be remembered in any discussion of this kind that steps must ever be taken only after the fullest investigation. One may make as great a financial blunder in the purchase of a specific piece of property for a home as he may make in any other financial transaction. Care must be exercised; great care. "Be sure that you are right, then go ahead."

WIFE SAYS MATE LIKED LIFE OF MANY TOWNS

That her husband was gifted with many jobs and an imagination; that he left a trail of debts extending from the Texas cotton fields through the Kansas hay barns and the California citrus belt into the sea, was the substance of allegations made by Augusta Lowrey, whose suit for divorce from John Lowrey was on file today in the superior court.

According to the story of the wife, from the time of their marriage at Elmer, Oklahoma, August 7, 1911, to the time of their separation, February 2, in this county, life was just one job after another, one town after another, and, apparently, one disappointment after another.

She asserts that her husband could not hold jobs—that he complained of ill health as an excuse for losing or quitting each new position that he found.

He deserted her in the Texas cotton fields, she says, leaving her stranded. She finally made her way home to her parents in Oklahoma, where he later rejoined her and lived, she claims, off her father.

He next ventured into the Kansas hay fields and soon came back, she alleges, "dirty, ragged and broke."

Then California. Then came California and brief periods of existence in Orange, Garden Grove and more than a dozen other cities of the state, she claims, a debt being left at each place.

The husband's imagination, according to the wife, was revealed in a story he told her at Redlands after he had returned to her there from Long Beach, where he had worked on a fishing boat.

The boat, she says, he told her after a three weeks' absence, had been lost at sea, all hands being picked up after drifting a week. She claims to have found this thrilling narrative somewhat wide of the real facts, which were, she asserts, that her husband was loafing on the streets of Long Beach during his absence.

Custody of three small children was asked by the wife in her suit, which was filed by Attorney Roland Thompson.

FEAR PLANE AND 5 PASSENGERS LOST

(United Press Leased Wire)
MIAMI, Fla., March 24.—Preparations were made here early today to extend the search for the missing "Miss Miami" flying boat which disappeared between here and Bimini with five persons aboard. The search of the waters between here and the island by a fleet of planes and speed boats failed to reveal any trace of the missing plane.

The Miami left here at noon Wednesday for Bimini a 45-minute trip. Fear grew today that the craft plunged under the waters between here and the island.

A Four Hour Ironing Done in One Hour with a Western Electric Ironer

Especially interesting is the small roll at the end of every Western Electric Ironer which enables you to iron ruffles, collar bands, etc., as well as by hand.

Can you imagine cutting that time between the clothes line and putting away the freshly ironed clothes in just one-fourth, Mrs. Housewife? And would you appreciate it? Especially if the clothes had an even better finish than if done by hand.

It is easily done with a Western Electric Ironer, and the heavy even pressure of the machine secures a much better finish to your clothes than you can easily obtain by hand.

And so simple to operate—just sit comfortably down and pass the clothes through the roller. For the greater ease of operation there is both hand and foot control, leaving the hands free to guide the clothes.

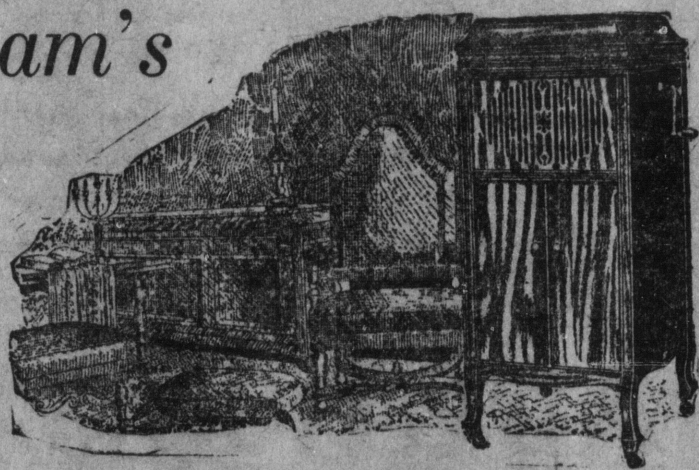

You can own one of these machines at little cost. The average cost of maintenance is only 7c per hour. Think of how much time you can save in a year, think of the labor? Can you afford to be without one?

Call at the store at any time and we will be glad to demonstrate one of the Ironers for you. A post card will bring one of our representatives to call with full particulars.

DREDGING BONDS LOSE. BRIDGE IS APPROVED

Failure of Newport to vote an issue of $25,000 bonds for additional dredging proposed to be done near the clubhouse of the Newport Harbor Yacht club, and on the city channel west to Newport, will have no bearing on the big regatta to be held there next August, according to the statement today of J. A. Beek, port captain.

Two bonding propositions were submitted to the voters yesterday, one for dredging and the other for $21,000 for the construction of a new bridge across the Santa Ana river at the edge of the city. The former lost and the latter carried.

The city was divided into two precincts, No. 1 being Newport Beach proper and No. 2 being composed of East Newport and Balboa. The total vote for the dredging issue was 160 and against 89. The number of favorable votes necessary was 166 under the number of ballots cast.

For the bridge bonds 221 voters cast favorable ballots and 32 unfavorable. Only 168 favorable votes were necessary.

The bridge is to be of steel girder construction and work will probably begin June 1, it was said today.

STOMACH TROUBLE

In five minutes "Pape's Diapepsin" ends

Indigestion	Gases	Acidity
Sourness	Flatulence	Palpitation

Take "Pape's Diapepsin" now! In five minutes your stomach feels fine. Don't bother what upset your stomach or which portion of the food did the damage. If your stomach is sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; you belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress. Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear. If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quick-est, surest, most harmless antacid is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs only sixty cents for a large case at drug stores.—Adv.

CITY'S LARGEST THEATER, NEW YOST, OPENS TOMORROW

$50,000 Alterations and Improvements Being Completed

OWNER REALIZES AIM

Show House Is Regarded as One of Best in South Outside L. A.

E. D. Yost today was anticipating tomorrow evening full realization of his ambition since engaging in the theater business in Santa Ana—that of having one of the best show houses in Southern California outside of Los Angeles.

By tomorrow evening work of enlarging and remodeling the Yost theater—operations involving the expenditures of approximately $50,000—will have been completed and the playhouse doors again will be thrown open to the public after being closed for a week to permit execution of the final details.

Improvement work has been in progress for several months during which Yost has had various experts in their respective lines engaged in development of the plans outlining the new and modern theater.

The stage, according to Yost, is one of the largest in theaters in the Southland, and will accommodate the largest of the travelling companies. The stage is 30 feet deep and 60 feet wide, with the proscenium arch 25x40 feet. Kolb and Dill, the first big road show attraction scheduled to play in the remodelled theater, will appear late in April.

To Seat 1600 to 1700

The theater will have seating capacity for 1600 to 1700 persons. The first night show will be at prices which Yost declares are less than in many of the big theaters offering a similar program. Addition of a gallery, to which admission is only 15 cents, is one of the features of the new Yost. There are 150 seats in the gallery. The same number of seats have been added in the balcony, while approximately 600 seats have been added on the main floor.

The loges have been enlarged and now have accommodations for 120 instead of approximately 40 persons as formerly.

Six hundred upholstered, spring cushion seats have been purchased for the main floor and 120 roomy arm chairs for the loges.

Draperies and decorations will make the interior one of the prettiest of amusement houses and will increase the pleasure accompanying the witnessing of productions at the playhouse.

Various firms have co-operated with the owner in executions of plans developed for realization of his ambition to have a playhouse second to none in the smaller cities of the Southland. Interest in speeding up the work has been the rule with all the sub-contractors and there has been no unnecessary delay in the building program, according to Yost.

Costs $50,000

T. H. Fowler, the original owner and builder of the theater, had the general contract. He also drew the

Rambling Around

Gossip of the City
By Eddie West

To many persons an airplane is about the strangest thing in the world. At least so avers Chet Young, who operates the flying machine here that takes applicants for tours over the city.

According to Young, he has been asked foolish questions numbering 54,897 since his air trips have been inaugurated here.

"A little spectacled gentleman came to the field the other day," Young said, "and told us that he wanted to make a flight."

"He carefully investigated the machine, tested the wires, peeked inside the engine and then started asking questions."

"Does the engine pump up the wings? What makes that propeller go around?" he asked.

"After considerable persuasion, the little gentleman donned the heavy coats and helmet and took his seat in the plane after kissing his wife like he never expected to see her again."

"The flight lasted several minutes. When we came back to the field and landed, the spectacled gentleman was pale. He suddenly leaned over the side of the ship and 'let it fly.' After considerable effort in that direction, he looked at me and said in a choking voice:

"I didn't think this darn thing was safe."

WEIRD INSPIRATIONS.

These special assignments aren't what they're cracked up to be. City editors have a habit of getting some of the weirdest inspirations in the world. Imagine one of 'em giving you a suggestion to make a story about the monkeys in Birch park.

AS TO FACIAL ALFALFA.

Barbers here say that Clyde Bishop, well known local barber, is the "hardest man in Santa Ana to shave."

It may be assumed that the tonorialists thereby refer to Bishop's facial alfalfa and not to his demeanor while in the barber's chair.

Walter Vieira, veteran flesh cutter at Curtis' barber shop, is Bishop's tonorial enemy.

"Say, Clyde," he said the other day as he maneuvered to chop the attorney's face, "Why don't you let 'em grow? A pair of flowing Dunderbears might impress a jury. Who can tell?"

LUHR SETS MARK.

Graduating from high school in three years at the age of fourteen and prepared to win the Southern California debating championship for Santa Ana.

That is the record that Overton Luhr, prominent Poly student, will establish this year.

High school officials have praised Luhr highly for his efforts, which have placed him in the honor rolls all through his course.

His marks have always been of the highest order and yet on top of that he has participated in several important debates which already have brought the oratorical title of the county to the local school.

91 INCHES RAIN'S TOTAL ATOP SADDLEBACK

Downpour In Less Than 3 Months at High Altitude Found Heavy

Orange county had 91 inches of rain—snow—in less than three months this winter.

That is, such was the precipitation in one section of the county.

J. F. McDonald, of the United States forest service, supplies the figures.

He was with the forestry crew building trail on and near Santiago Peak, on the peak of what is commonly called Old Saddleback, from December 16, 1921, until March 1, last.

McDonald acted as cook for the crew while the men were cutting and clearing a fire break and repairing the trail along the main ridge to the northwest of the peak.

In his spare time he kept a record of the rain and snowfall.

"My figures," he says, "show the difference between the higher and lower altitudes."

Rain Soaks In

"From December 18, until the end of the year 31 inches of rain fell. The ground was very dry at this time and on account of the dense brush cover on the higher peaks, ridges and spurs the run-off was very light and most of the moisture soaked in."

"In January, 1922, there was 52 inches of snowfall—37 1/2 inches at one storm, followed by 42 hours of rain showing 33 inches of precipitation for the month. There was no indication of a heavy run-off anywhere on the upper trails."

"February was stormy 13 days and 10 nights—21 inches of snowfall and 27 inches of rain, with the rain gauge running over, how many hours I could not say."

"The snow has been off only in spots this year up here on county line, where this record was taken. Most of the snowfall reached down six miles as the trails run, formed a crust due to ensuing high fog-mist and rain, and melted off slowly. Virtually all the moisture soaked into the ground, and, up to this date, March has nearly as good a record on the higher peaks."

Watersheds Asset

"After many years' experience in helping to get watershed data in various parts of California in national forests and elsewhere, please let me say that I doubt very much if the people in Orange and Riverside counties realize what a valuable national resource they have. Those two counties have yet many acres, lying idle or bringing in a very small income to their owners, which could be put under a high state of agriculture with the water from those valuable watersheds. But in order to get good results, those watersheds must be protected; fire must be kept out, to give the growth a chance to thrive and regulate the runoff and reduce evaporation."

"There are various ways in which Orange and Riverside counties may co-operate with the United States forest service in bringing about these results. It is to the counties' best interests to co-operate in every possible way. To protect the cover on those watersheds is the only security they can get."

"There is no question that if Orange and Riverside counties' watersheds were protected and the water were conserved they would always have an abundance of water."

Work In Black Star

Six forest service men in charge of Purple Hook, assistant ranger, are now at work repairing trail in Black Star canyon.

McDonald was forced to ask for leave of absence on account of an infection on his left hand, due to a splinter. A physician at Orange is treating him.

100 HERE WILL HAL NATIONAL P.-T. A. HEAD

Visit of Mrs. Higgins of Bay State Is Eagerly Awaited

A winter's itinerary extending over a period of five months and the distance of a continent's width—such is that of Mrs. Milton P. Higgins, national president of the Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher association, whose visit to Santa Ana next Friday is eagerly awaited.

January 28, Mrs. Higgins left her home in Worcester, Mass., for the long trans-continental trip with the annual national convention to be held early in May in Tacoma, Wash., as her ultimate destination.

Writing to Mrs. C. C. Noble, Los Angeles, national membership chairman, regarding her plans, Mrs. Higgins declared her intention of appearing in the interests of the organization in various states en route, notably Louisiana, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, California and Oregon. In this same letter she announced a willingness to visit each of California's eleven districts if they could arrange dates to harmonize with hers.

To Visit Santa Ana

Acting upon this knowledge, members of the fourth district under the efficient presidency of Mrs. Earl Morris, Santa Ana, immediately changed their meeting date to coincide with one which Mrs. Higgins had free, that of next Friday.

Elaborate plans have been made for the reception and entertainment of the national president, who expresses a degree of pleasure in returning to Santa Ana for a second visit. Six years ago, while one of the national vice presidents, Mrs. Higgins visited this city and upon her return will be extended a warm greeting by friends made at that time, among them, Mrs. J. N. Anderson.

Arriving here next Thursday night, Mrs. Higgins will be received by a committee, which will act as escort to the rooms reserved for her and her social secretary at St. Ann's Inn.

Important business session will be held, opening at the Congregational church at 9:30 a. m. next Friday. Election of officers will be one of the first matters of importance to be taken up. Many prominent guests are expected not only for the business sessions but for the luncheon to be served at James's gold room at 12:30.

To Be Honor Guest

Mrs. Higgins will be guest of honor, while among other notables to whom invitations have been extended are, Mrs. Noble, instrumental in organizing the fourth district; Mrs. A. L. Hamilton of Pasadena, national vice-president; and Mrs. Charles F. Gray of Los Angeles, first vice-president of California, and representing the state in the absence of the state president, Mrs. Harry J. Ewing of San Jose, who will be unable to attend.

Arrangements for the luncheon are in the hands of Mrs. John Clarkson and reservations may be made either through her or Mrs. Earl Morris. In all, one hundred guests may be accommodated and already more than half that number have announced their intention to be present.

Next Monday is the ultimate date when reservations may be made, Mrs. Morris stated.

Mrs. Higgins will arrive in Santa Ana from San Diego, to which city she will have proceeded directly from Phoenix, Arizona. From her appointment here, she will go to Los Angeles, to be entertained by C. of M. and P.-T. A. of that district and thence northward on her journey to Tacoma, stopping en route at various cities.

REDSKINS READY FOR OPERETTA AT POLY

Forty-six Redskins, outfitted with multi-colored blankets, tomahawks, iridescent beads, feathered headgear, soft moccasins, war cosmetics, and other articles necessary to the comfort of the bronzed native today were prepared to chant their weird battle songs and lullabies, and to dance strange movements.

For when the curtain rises at the high school auditorium this evening, "hep many" Injuns will cavort, while they sing the song of "The Legend of Nacoochee." There will sing Currahee, Big Chief of the Cherokee—will sing the squaws and braves—will chant the medicine man in worship of the priestess of the Sun god. There will dance the

WATCH, CHARM STOLEN FROM CHAMP GRID TEAM

Anyone found wearing a certain gold football watch charm, souvenir of Santa Ana high school's recent gridiron triumph in winning the Southern California championship, was in good position today to see some of the famous defensive tackling that helped bring home the title.

The wearer might also find himself kicked for a goal or two.

The particular watch charm in question was stolen yesterday at the high school from Joe Smith, manager of the champion foot ball team. With it went a gold watch. The charm was engraved on one side with "S. A. H. S." and on the other with "Manager Smith, Southern California champions."

BAUMGARTNER'S AUTO STOLEN, RECOVERED

That "special officer No. 5" must have a long beat, was indicated today by the fact he used approximately ten gallons of gasoline to cover it with a new Buick touring car, belonging to J. P. Baumgartner of The Register. The car was apparently borrowed for the occasion last night while its owner was attending a Y. M. C. A. meeting at the First Presbyterian church on North Sycamore street.

A badge bearing the quoted inscription was the one clue to the auto thief's identity. It was found in the car, which was recovered early today at Myrtle and Parton streets. "Officer No. 5" was apparently called away so hurriedly that he dropped his star.

Evidence that the license plates of the Buick had been removed and then obligingly replaced by the borrower, was found.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

A woman in Lynn, Mass., was steeping herbs on her kitchen stove according to a recipe of her own, to furnish medicine for the women of the neighborhood. Today, a stone's throw from the little home where she lived, there is a four-story laboratory, making the same medicine for the women of the world. During the last year almost 500 tons of carefully selected herbs were used in the manufacture of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

FIRM PLANS TO GIVE AWAY 50,000 CANS OF HIGH-GRADE COFFEE

When a company which has enjoyed the patronage and confidence of the people for nearly three decades makes a "free" offer, it puts the seal of real worth upon a word that has been oftentimes much abused in the past," said a grocer here today. So when Newmark Brothers, pioneer coffee roasters and importers of Southern California, announced that they would celebrate their 28th year in the coffee industry by giving away 50,000 cans of their high-grade coffee "free," it meant that this number of households in Santa Ana and a score of other Southern California cities would gladly take advantage of the offer.

The big event is heralded as "Newmark's Coffee week"—first of its kind on the Pacific Coast, if indeed there has ever been a "coffee week" observed elsewhere. The magic dates—March 25 to April 1—embrace the eight days during which many thousands of families throughout the territory covered by the offer will have the opportunity of enjoying Newmark's coffee in their homes. Grocers in every town will furnish full particulars.

should be raised for the fund was not determined, but amounts ranging from $150,000 to $200,000 were suggested.

Hill declared that the project could not be made a success unless there were at least three $10,000 gifts and a large number of $5,000 donations. With a large number of sizeable gifts he said it would be an easy matter to raise the rest in smaller amounts.

"Santa Ana has reached the point in population and interest in Y. M. C. A. work where the project can be put over," said Hill, "and the state committee is ready to co-operate and lend every assistance possible in the project."

Hill intimated that construction of a building costing less than $150,000 should not be considered. The cost will, however, be determined largely by decision of the building committee on the point of whether one or more dormitories should be included in the construction. He declared dormitories are features that bring many young men under Y. M. C. A. influences. They are more than self supporting, he said, revenue from them taking care of some of the expenses of maintenance and operation of the plant. Gymnasium, swimming pool, class rooms and auditorium, he said, were indispensable. Dormitories, he declared, could be eliminated, but he advised including one or more in the plans. He urged that there be procured a lot of sufficient size for ample court space to allow for outdoor activities.

Finley, chairman of the committee on site, did not make public sites that have been offered. It was thought that possibly some individual or group of men might come forward with an offer to donate a site. Hill declared that if a site were offered free it would be a great advance step and would make the raising of the fund easier.

The only site mentioned was that of Washington school and sentiment of the meeting appeared to favor that location. Cranston said if that site were to be secured there must be prompt action, as the school board would soon have to get plans under way for a new building on the Washington grounds or on another site. Hill gave it as his opinion that the building does not necessarily have to be close to the business district, but that a close-in location has its advantages for business men who avail themselves of the facilities of the building.

Ralph Cole, formerly county Y. M. C. A. secretary and now associated with the state office, expressed his appreciation and pleasure at the action of the meeting.

"I can say without hesitation that the need for a Y. M. C. A. building is here and that the need is bigger than for any building we can erect," said R. R. Miller, county probation officer. "I can't understand why Santa Ana has not had a building long before this," said the Rev. J. A. Stevenson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. "If we had ten or fifteen persons with real money to start the fund the rest would be easy."

"When you think of the thousands of dollars that are going out of Santa Ana for investment and note the bank deposits it is apparent that the wealth is here to justify a Y. M. C. A. building," said the Rev. John Oliver, pastor of the First Methodist church. "If we go at this with enthusiasm we can put it over the calamity howlers."

"I have been trying for fifteen or more years to help start a building in Santa Ana," said R. J. Blue. "I had sons whom I wanted to see benefited by such building, and now I have grandchildren who desire a building."

Others who spoke and urged action were O. H. Barr, Freeman H. Bloodgood, Dr. Elliott H. Rowland, J. W. McCormack, Tom Willis, The Rev. O. S. Russell, Harry W. Lewis.

stalwart braves—the dusky Indian maidens—to the measured rhythm of the beating tom-tom—to the weird wail of reed instruments.

Glee Club Presentation It matters not that the bronze hue is applied with brush and puff; that the raven locks are, in many cases, but temporary; that elaborate costumes are the product of the theatrical supply house. Also, the fact that the high school auditorium, rather than the depths of the forest, is the scene of these strange rites, is of little account. That the chieftains, braves, squaws, maids, medicine men, priests and priestesses are but members of the several glee clubs of the high school, adds to, rather than detracts from, the interest in the affair.

For right here it may be said, as it should, perhaps, have been said long since, that "The Legend of Nacoochee" is an operetta, the annual offering of the combined clubs. And judging from the "wampum" which has been bartered for the cardboard passports necessary to gain admission to the fête this evening, many peoples will attend.

Miss Lena Saepard has been directing the production, assisted by Joseph Jackson.

Following are the principal Redskins: Sun priestess, Ruth Mills; Currahee (chief of the Cherokee), Paul Brown; a brave, Lucien Harris; priest, Robert Bradford; a squaw, Cleo Bowers; medicine man, Roscoe Snider; Sautee (young chief of the Tallulah), Alfonso Mendosa; a dancer, Kathryn Van Doren; Nacoochee, Eva Turten.

Members of "The Legend of Nacoochee" last presented the operetta this morning with great success at the Orange high school and yesterday afternoon to more than 300 persons at the junior high school here.

CLAIM AGAINST LOCAL STORE IS DISMISSED

Wester and Young, La Habra realty firm, had been relieved today of the necessity of paying a $251.25 claim filed against them by the Long Beach

Paper and Paint company in a suit tried yesterday before Justice J. B. Cox.

The court found in favor of the defendants, denying the plaintiff's claim, which was based on paints supplied, it was alleged, to the defendants. The plaintiffs operate a store in Santa Ana under the name of the Standard Paint company.

Wester and Young contended that they had never received the paints, which apparently had been delivered to some other person.

TEMPLE — Constance Binney in "Midnight." (Opening.)

WEST END — Will Rogers in "Doubling For Romeo."

PRINCESS — William Duncan and Edith Johnson in "No Defense." (Closing.)

YOST—Dark. Grand opening tomorrow night at 7 o'clock.

THEATROGOERS AWAIT YOST OPENING

Keen interest is manifest in the opening of the Yost theater tomorrow night at 7 o'clock, when Mayor J. G. Mitchell is to launch the enterprise with a short speech befitting the occasion.

A number of notable acts are to mark the program, one of which is to be the "Paradoxo trio" from "The Pirates of Penzance," the opera staged recently by the Orange County Choral Union under the direction of Ellis Rhodes.

E. D. Yates, president of the Yost Theaters company, was so much impressed with the artistry of the trio in the recent production that he sought the co-operation of the Choral union in presenting the number as a feature of his opening program—a very charming compliment, indeed, and a significant tribute to the talented director, Ellis Rhodes.

The trio includes Robert L. Brown, Ray R. Miles and Miss Edith Cornell, whose vocal attainments mark them outstanding figures in the cultural life of the Southland.

ONLY LAUGHING PURPOSES ONLY IS WEST END FILM

"Doubling for Romeo," Goldwyn's latest comedy, was written and produced with no other purpose in view than to inspire violent laughter. It is a lively and delicious satire on movie studios and movie people; it exposes the inner workings of a studio lot in full blast; it is a delightful burlesque of Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet," and it presents Will Rogers with the funniest role of his life at the West End for the rest of the week.

MR. JIGGS HERE AGAIN
Johnny Ray, as Mr. Jiggs of George McManus' famed cartoons, "Bringing Up Father," is in trouble again at the Princess Theater, where he will create roars of laughter with "Jiggs and the Social Lion" for tonight.

With him are Margaret Fitzroy as Maggie, Laura LaPlante as Nora, and Ward Caulfield as Jerry Honahan. Several hundred extras and a lion take part in this two-reel Pathe comedy.

EAST AND WEST IS SHOWN IN PHOTODRAMA

A happy combination of both Eastern and Western atmosphere, or social life and roughing it, will be shown at the Princess Theater next Thursday and Friday. The production is entitled "No Defense," and co-stars William Duncan and Edith Johnson.

The play is replete with intense dramatic incidents, suspense, mystery and a strong climax. There is plenty of Western atmosphere here while the hero at the mines and roughing his way back to New York.

LUMBER FIRM MAKES FIVE PCT. WAGE CUT

REDDING, Cal., March 24.—Wage reduction of five per cent, effective April 1, for all employees were announced today by the Red River Lumber company at Westwood, near here.

The new wage scale is made necessary by declines in lumber prices, which drop $2 per thousand feet on the same date, the company stated.

GIRLS! LEMONS WHITEN SKIN AND BLEACH FRECKLES

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.

BIG RICE ACREAGE
WILLOWS, March 24--Nick Jewell who made such a success of rice culture in this county several years ago will try the game again this year on a considerable scale. He has leased a tract of land between Norman and Maxwell to sow 800 acres of it to rice. He is to experiment with tobacco culture also. Ten acres will be planted to that crop, the seed for which has already been ordered.

POTATO GROWERS ORGANIZE
CORCORAN, March 24--A Sweet Potato Growers' association has just been organized here. The new association expects to form a pool to market the product through a Turlock concern, following somewhat along the line of the Raisin Growers' association. The growers anticipate increased planting of sweet potatoes next year.

TO PLANT ROSELLE
HANFORD, March 24--Under the direction of Miss Evelyn Conklin, home demonstrator, a widespread trial will be made in this county of roselle, a tropical fruit for jelly making. Plans are now being made to have at least two experimental plots planted in each farm center, and enough ranchers have already agreed to try it out to make certain a genuine test.

BUYS APARTMENT HOUSE
FRESNO, March 24--The Lund apartments, a two-story frame building on O street, between Mariposa and Fresno, was sold by O. Lund and Alice Lund to J. T. Brown and Nellie E. Brown. The consideration is reported to have been between $20,000 and $25,000. The building stands on a lot on the east side of the street, with a frontage of 50 feet and a depth of 150 feet. It contains nine apartments, fully furnished.

1000 ZANTE CURRANT VINES
MAXWELL, March 24--Ed Beckers of Maxwell is planting 1000 Zante currant vines as an experiment. There are other varieties planted here that grow with success. The new plantings are the famous Zante currant grapes that were formerly imported from Europe for mincemeat fruit cakes and plum puddings. Experiments in this country have proved they can be grown here.

ACCUSED HUSBAND IS DIVORCE DEFENDANT

Simultaneous with postponement of trial for Oscar Millbrat, who, with Alphonso and Hugo Millbrat and M. W. Wright, is accused by his wife of disturbing the peace, the wife, Mary Snider Millbrat filed suit for divorce in the superior court, it was learned today.

Justice J. B. Cox continued the trial of the criminal charge to May 25 at 10 a. m. It was originally set for 9 a. m. today. The alleged offense, committed March 13, was said to consist of removing the roof of the house occupied by Oscar Millbrat's wife, following his separation from her.

The divorce suit was filed today through Attorney Roland Thompson. It alleges desertion and asks for a share of community property, consisting of an orange grove north of the county hospital, a $5,000 crop and livestock estimated to be worth $4,000.

CONTINUE HEARING OF ALLEGED AUTO THIEF

To allow time for investigating the mental condition of Harry Fox, charged with grand larceny, his preliminary examination scheduled for next Tuesday was continued today by Justice J. B. Cox to May 16, at 2 p. m.

Fox was arrested at Anaheim recently and charged with responsibility for the theft of nineteen Chevrolet cars stolen from that city within recent months. Fox appeared to have a liking for that particular make of car and molested no other, it was alleged.

The various cars stolen were partially stripped of their parts and then abandoned.

RECALL HELLMAN WILL IN TITLE SUIT HERE

Property situated between Orange and Olive, consisting of between 40 and 45 acres, was involved today in a suit to quiet title, filed in the superior court by Charles Carlson, Clarence Carlson, W. H. Smith and George Smith, against E. S. Heller.

Sidney M. Ehrman and I. W. Hellman III, as executors of the will of the late Isidore W. Hellman.

Four parcels of land each held by one of the plaintiffs, and all said to have been originally purchased from John W. Toberman, are listed in the complaint.

Feed Your Poultry
PCA MASH
if you want results like this!

Everybody Feeding PCA has such hens!

Over a Half Million Happy Hens

Many of the most successful poultrymen of Southern California are feeders of PCA DRY MASH. Large and small ranchers are of the same opinion when it is a question of the right feed. There is a reason for this: EXPERIENCE has shown these men true feed values and the real worth of PCA PRODUCTS. They know the greatest satisfaction comes from feeding the mash that has the greatest merit.

In many districts, inquire of the ten best poultrymen as to the kind of mash they feed—eight will tell you PCA. They will heartily recommend PCA DRY MASH for they have confidence in it and know what results can be obtained from its use.

Poultrymen have faith in the organization back of PCA PRODUCTS. They are acquainted with the high standards of manufacture—the perfect purity of materials—the extreme care in production.

They know PCA will never disappoint either the hens or their owners BECAUSE it always has been and always will be of the same high quality.

THOUSANDS OF HAPPY HENS enjoy PCA throughout the year and BRING PROFITS TO THEIR OWNERS.

PCA Dry Mash never fails to make a reduction in the feed bills, or in the cost per dozen eggs, as tests have shown IT GOES FARTHER and increases production.

If you wish a mash that is properly balanced, wholesome and certain.

U. S. SHOWS BUTCHER'S PROFIT LESS THAN 3%

(From The Retail Ledger of March 15)

Department of Agriculture
Makes Survey of 3500
Stores

FINDS NO PROFITEERING

Meat Cutters Get 10 Cents of Consumer's Dollar, Proprietor 2.29 Per Cent.

Washington, D. C., March 14. The Department of Agriculture has just completed a survey of the retail meat trade. The results show that of the dollar that the consumer spends with the retail butcher more than ninety-seven cents is paid out by the butcher for the meat and the costs of running his store.

This leaves him less than three cents out of every dollar he takes in for Attorney General Daugherty to describe as "unconscionable profit."

Putting it another way, if the retail-butcher merely met expenses and conducted his business purely out of a spirit of philanthropy, the consumer wouldn't save the price of two postage stamps on the dollar and the difference in the cost of living would have to be measured with a microscope.

Yet the consumer pays a dollar for meat that the wholesaler sells the butcher for $1.14 cents. The difference, with the exception of the retailer's net profit of 2.29 cents, lies in store expenses, according to the figures gathered by the Government from over 3500 stores in virtually every section of the country. Yet only two items of expense amount to more than one cent each. One of them is rent, which costs one and a third cents. The other is wages, which cost ten and a quarter cents. The hired man behind the counter gets more than four times as much of the consumer's dollar as does the proprietor.

Foregoing figures are the average. There are variations, according to the different types of stores and the class of business conducted, but the analysis of all of the figures gathered by the Department of Agriculture leads to the conclusion that the elimination of the retailer's profit would make little difference in the cost of living, for stores, whether called stores or stations, would have to be conducted anyhow for the distribution of meat, lighted, heated and served with ice. Paper would still be necessary to wrap the meat and men to cut it and wait on the consumer would have to be employed.

The average meat store's net profit according to the survey, is 2.29 cents on the dollar. But this is a compounded figure. As a matter of fact, the average independent retailer gets only 2.17 cents, while the chain meat store gets 3.39.

There is shown a range of net profit for stores of different sizes ranging from about 2 per cent of sales for those doing an annual business of less than $25,000 to an average of about 2.75 per cent of sales for stores doing a business of over $200,000. The net profit for carry stores was 2.35 per cent of sales, compared with 2.13 for delivery stores.

The allowance for a one-man store with annual sales of $20,000 per year is 3 per cent for salary and wages or $1600, and additional net profit of 2 per

THE MEAT DOLLAR

The retail butcher puts in his personal pocket less than 2 1/2 cents on the dollar which the consumer spends with him, according to a survey recently completed by the United States Department of Agriculture, a survey not visibly conducted in by Attorney General Daugherty. The retailer divides the consumer's dollar this way: 2.29c is the retailer's average net profit.

81.14c is what he pays the wholesaler for the meat.

10.25c is what he pays the man who takes in the counter and other store help.

1.33c goes for rent.

0.77c is the cost of ice and refrigeration out of every consumer dollar.

0.76c is the cost of paper in which the customer carries home the meat.

0.21c is what the butcher's light, heat and power cost out of every dollar he takes in.

0.51c goes for interest.

2.74c is the lump sum of several others.

Thus, with operating expenses of 16.57c, and a wholesale meat cost of $1.14c, the retail butcher has to pay out nearly 88c of the dollar he receives.

cent of sales, which gave this distributor approximately $2000 net return in 1919. He received interest on his investment in the business in addition. For a concern with sales of over $200,000 with a staff of about ten employees, the salary of the manager-owner is placed at $3500 and net profits at 2.75 per cent of sales, making a total return of approximately $9000, in addition to which he received interest on his investment in the business.

The gross margin or the spread between cost of good and sales for the stores with family trade were approximately 2 per cent greater for the smallest than for the largest stores, ranging from 1.91 to 3.41 per cent of sales, the margin being somewhat greater for delivery than for non-delivery stores.

The average margin on meat sales of the seventeen chain store systems was 18.88 per cent of sales, the same as for the individual meat markets. The chain store systems had lower operating costs, particularly in the item of wages, their net profits averaging more than 1 per cent higher than the individual meat markets.

Operating expenses and the gross margin were found to be appreciably larger in the Southeast and Pacific Coast sections. In the Southeast this is explainable in part by the great predominance of delivery service, which seems to be particularly prevalent in that section; but in both these sections wages seem to play a large part in bringing about higher operating expenses, and in both sections also net profits were high.

This survey covered the operating expenses and profits of retail meat stores of various types and classes and included 214 individual markets with total sales of $24,844,578 in 1919, and 216 branch stores in seventeen chain systems with sales amounting to $18,529,346. The complete canvass included such cities as Hartford, Conn.; Pittsburgh, Pa.; Des Moines, Ia.; Raleigh, N. C.; Birmingham, Ala.; and Los Angeles, Calif., and the partial canvass covered the six large cities, New York, Baltimore, Chicago, Memphis, New Orleans and San Francisco.

In the year 1919 the percentage relationship of operating expenses to volume of business was probably lower than at any other time. During the war years wholesale prices of meats had risen rapidly, and wages and most other operating expenses of the retailer had risen less rapidly. Since midsummer 1919, the general trend of wholesale prices of meats has been rapidly downward. The general trend of operating expenses, however, continued rapidly upward from 1919 until 1920, and seems to have declined but little between July, 1920, and July, 1921. In consequence the percentage relationship of operating expenses to wholesale prices has greatly increased.

Donizio Castillo, of Delhi, charged with a statutory offense against a married woman of Delhi, will go to trial before Superior Judge R. Y. Williams, April 19 at 10 a. m.

That date was set today by the court after Castillo, through his attorney, M. B. Wellington, who was appointed by the court to defend the Mexican, had entered a plea of not guilty.

After Wellington had demurred to the information filed against Castillo by the district attorney's office, the court permitted the filing of an amended information.

GRAPE INDUSTRY THRIVES
MADERA, March 24.—Recent development activities in Madera county have brought an additional 1160 acres of new land under cultivation, and a study of the situation shows that a tremendous impetus has been given the grape industry, as nearly all of this new land will be devoted to the cultivation of vineyards, states Paul B. Wilson, district manager for the San Joaquin Light and Power corporation, who announces that this new land will be irrigated by means of electrically pumped water.

CINCINNATI REDS MYSTERY TEAM OF NATIONAL LEAGUE, WRITER DECLARES

Caveney Showing Well But Pinelli's Fate In Doubt; Outfit Will Have Good Outfield, but Pitchers Slow In Rounding Into Condition

By TOM SWOPE
Sports Editor Cincinnati Post
(Written for the United Press)

Anyone who attempts in March to tell where the Cincinnati Reds will finish in the National league's 1922 campaign is very likely to find himself decidedly wrong in October.

Pat Moran's club is the mystery outfit of the senior circuit. They may create a stir or settle peacefully in the second division and say there. It looks now, however, as if its going to be a pretty fair team with a chance of becoming a real good one. Moran is going to have a great outfield whether Eddie Roush reports or not. If Roush steps into a uniform the Red outfielder will be the best in the league, with Ruosh and Burns as regulars and Neale, Duncan, Bressler, Harper and Hock scrapping it out for the other berth. Wingo and Hargrave compose a high class pair of catchers. Jake Daubert will remain at first base and Same Bohne at second. Jimmy Vavene, the highly touted graduate of San Francisco, so far has handled himself like a high class shortstop. Babe Pinelli, purchased from Oakland, is a slow starter and it is impossible to tell now if he will be able to make the grade at third base. Only Adolfo Luque, the Cuban, and Eppa Rixey appear sure fire winners among the pitchers. Pete Donohue is still an experiment. John Scott, secured from the Braves in the deal for Rube Marquard, has a lame arm. Cliff Markle and Johnny Couch, deans of the young pitchers in point of experience, are uncertain propositions. Among the newer comes John Gillespie, late of Calgary, appears to be quite a pitcher. Karl Schnell, another hurler, from the same club, also may develop into a winner.

Junior College Plans To Organize Team of Tennis Sharks

From all indications, tennis is soon to become an active sport in the Santa Ana Junior college. Ten students have thus far signed up to appear in competition for places on the team. Charles Miller was appointed tennis manager. At the same meeting Harold Dresser was appointed to manage track, and Gordon Talbert to hold the same position for baseball. A round robin is being planned by Coach E. J. Hummell to eliminate the lesser tennis players. Those to take part in this affair are Harold Dresser, Mary Hemstreet, Charles Miller, Robert Greene, Ruth Kellogg, Joseph Peterson, Elizabeth Parslow, C. Johnson, Mary Swales and H. Armstrong.

TILDEN DECIDES NOT TO PLAY IN LONDON

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, March 24.—Since Bill Tilden has decided not to go to London this summer, John Bull can step in and bring back one of his prodigious championships.

Announcement of the Lawn Tennis association that the world's singles ace would not be sent to the Wimbledon tournament does not mean that there will be no Americans in the British tennis championships, but it does mean that there will be no American good enough to step into the title that Tilden has held for two years.

Vincent Richards, the "boy wonder" was planning to try his racket with the British this summer, but it is doubtful now that he will go.

Mrs. Molla Mallory has done most of her competition across the water at her own expense, and it is almost a certainty that she will return this season, as she is very keen to get another chance against Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, the French champion, and queen of the European courts.

There is a good chance that while losing the men's world's title Uncle Samuel may acquire the women's title as Mrs. Mallory should be able to go clear through the Wimbledon list, Lenglen or no Lenglen.

ST. FRANCIS HOTEL IN S. F. IS 18 YEARS OLD

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—Eighteen years ago the Hotel St. Francis opened its doors to the public with 2000 guests for dinner and a crowd of 25,000 people gathered in Union square to watch the dedicatory ceremonies of the new establishment. Mrs. Allon Pollok, aged 80, mother of the first manager of the hotel, was the first to sign her name on the register.

Thomas R. Keating, now assistant manager of the St. Francis, was superintendent of service, and Mrs. Mary Bowie, present housekeeper, was in charge of the linen rooms, Victor Hirtler, chef, and Marcel Berberis were with the hotel when it was opened and hold a record for service at the same positions, according to officials of the St. Francis.

"Nothing can stop California," said Thomas J. Coleman, manager of the St. Francis, yesterday. "Her future is assured. The people from throughout the world have learned since the war that California is the mecca for pleasure seekers, as well as men whose interests are in business, industry and commerce. It only remains for us all to pull together, and the hotels particularly are on the doorstep of tremendous prosperity."

NEPHEW OF KING OF EGYPT COMING WEST

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—Prince Mahamed Ali Ibrahim, said to be a nephew of Ahmed Fuad Pasha, former khedive of Egypt, who recently assumed the title of King of Egypt, is soon to be a visitor in San Francisco.

Reservations have been made at the St. Francis for the prince, who is now touring America by automobile.

TEAMS TO PLAY OFF POSTPONED BATTLES

County Leaguers Ready for Games Sunday Unless Weather Hinders

Huntington Beach at Tustin. Fruit Ranch at Garden Grove. San Juan Capistrano at Newport. Mercantile at El Toro.

Above is the post-schedule series of harbor league games which will be played Sunday, barring weather interference.

Last week the regular schedule of the harbor league was completed, but there were many games which had been postponed during the season, and a conference resulted in the drawing up of another brief schedule to allow for the play-off.

Huntington Beach starts on the final stretch with a slight lead, but the seafarers are being crowded by the Tustin K. P. team. Newport, until recently at the fore, is a low third, while the Fruit Ranch team has been coming to the front steadily and is now in fourth place. Others in order are Garden Grove, San Juan, Mercantile and El Toro.

What Coast League Players Are Doing

BOYES SPRINGS, Cal.—Four recruits were en route home minus their jobs with the Seals today. They were Borden, pitcher from the Valley league; Bailey and Hall, first basemen, and Seiffert, pitcher. Late this afternoon the Seals break camp and leave for home.

MYRTLEDALE SPRINGS.—The Oaks were scheduled for one more hard workout today before returning to their home town—the training camp period over. Yesterday all they could do was talk, rain preventing real work.

LOS ANGELES.—"Wait, McCredie must think the Chicago Cubs are a branch of the United States mint," Bill Killefer, Cub chieftain, said today. Killefer asserts the Seattle manager wants so much money for Marty Kruk, hold-out second baseman, that the Cubs have practically given up hope of getting him.

LOS ANGELES.—Ed. Maier held a stop watch on his hired hands today, making each player circle the bases. Outfielder Vern Blenkiron, lately a U. S. C. sprinter, made the 120 yard trip in 14.3. "Chicken" Hawks, ex-Yankee was next in 14.4. Other Vernonites hobbled in around 15.1 and worse.

ST. HELENS SEEKS TO OWN WATER SYSTEM

ST. HELENA, March 24.—The trustees of St. Helena have an ordinance calling for a bond election for the purpose of acquiring the water system of the St. Helena Water company.

The election is set for April 10, on which day this city will also elect three new trustees. The election for the bonds includes the purchase of the property, water rights, reservoirs, right of way and distributing system of the St. Helena Water company, together with the improvement and extension of the same within the incorporated limits of the town. The purchase price of the system is about $70,000.

ASPARAGUS SEASON IS LATEST IN TEN YEARS

SACRAMENTO, March 24.—The present season is the latest asparagus season in ten years. This is according to Sales Manager C. P. Hoar of the California Vegetable union, who recently completed a tour of investigation of the delta regions.

The cold weather and continuous rains have held the "grass" back so that up to Wednesday of this week only 250 boxes had been sent east. Hoar says, whereas, under normal conditions it would be moving in carloads by express at this time.

In 1921 the first carload left Sacramento March 11, but at this time the prospect for a car is somewhat remote.

SPORT GOSSIP

PARIS—Georges Carpentier will meet Nilles, the French heavyweight, in a 20-round bout, to be fought in the open air, on September 3, providing Carpentier is not beaten in the meantime.

NEW ORLEANS.—"There is nothing more to add," Commissioner Landis said about the Ruth-Meusel case. Ruth asked to be forgiven, but the commissioner declined to be lenient.

SAN ANTONIO.—Excellent pitching of Fred Toney featured the Giants' 18 to 7 win from Indianapolis.

MOBILE, Ala.—The Browns got only eight hits off Reuther and Vance but they beat the Brooklyn Robins, 4 to 2.

NEW YORK—Vincent Richards will not compete in the national indoor tennis championships starting Saturday but will rest for two months.

NEW ORLEANS—Frank Baker got his third homer in two days while the Yanks were winning from New Orleans, 10 to 3.

LOS ANGELES.—The Cubs play Vernon today and the Angeles Saturday and Sunday.

AUSTIN, Tex.—The White Sox arrived here today on their journey North.

SAN FRANCISCO—William Tilden, world's tennis champion, will come to the coast in May, according to word received here today. He will appear first at the East-West tournament at Berkeley, May 8.

UP-STATE NEWS

VENTURA.—C. Thorn, representing one of the large oil companies of the state, has acquired 1000 acres on the avenue, including 600 acres of Ed Canet and the properties of Allen Fraser and Silas Fraser. By the terms of the lease he will be drilling within ninety days. The property owners will receive $100 a month rental and one-eighth royalty on all oil.

MARYSVILLE.—The Marysville River Farms company announces the sale in San Francisco of bonds in the sum of $125,000 for the improvement of large holdings recently acquired from the O'Brien estate along the Yuba River bottom. Most of this land is covered with timber which will be cleared. Orchards will be planted. Work to this end already has started and improvements and land are said to total in value $270,000 to date.

MADERA.—Madera county fruits hereafter will be packed under a Madera brand, that is, under the E. Y. Foley brand of Madera, Cal. In the E. Y. Foley brand of Fresno, according to word reaching S. Canatella, local representatives of the Foley interests. Canatella also announced that his firm's new packing house to be built here will be started shortly.

SANTA MARIA.—The city water department has received the material for the new 200,000 gallon steel tank to be erected in the near future. This new tank when erected will be the largest for its height in the state and will tower about 137 feet in the air. When finished the tank will represent an investment of $17,000.

REDDING.—City Manager E. A. Rolison reports that the city cleared $2,663.85 during February under the municipal ownership of the electric light distributing system. The receipts from consumers of light and power were $5,371.64. The cost of current purchased from the Pacific Gas and Electric at wholesale rates paid by the state railroad commission was $1724. Charges for interest, maintenance, depreciation, salaries and supplies brought the total expense to $2,707.79.

FAIRFIELD.—The town board of trustees of Fairfield have placed on the ballot for the town election the question of bonding the town for $10,000 to pave Union avenue with a 25-foot strip of concrete to the town limits of Suisun City. No apparent opposition has been submitted, and the work will in all probability begin in the early part of May.

TRACK FANS HOPING SHOWERS ARE OVER

Yesterday's Rain Helped Poly Oval But More Rain Will Halt Meet

Announcing Mr. Jupiter X. Pluvius in the role of benefactor.

High school track enthusiasts are so acclaiming him today, for last night old Jupe let fall a warm, tender shower, which put the finishing touches on the newly completed track at the high school. Yesterday afternoon the stalwarts had dragged the field and track, and were fondly hoping for rain when J. Pluvius obliged.

But when the track men are extending devout thanks for yesterday's shower, they are also hoping that will be the last for some time. It is said that if more rain falls today and tonight, another and final postponement of the meet will be necessary.

FIGHT RESULTS

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—Chubby Brown, Rochester, won the decision over Red Mack, Albany, in ten rounds.

NEW YORK—Benny Valgar, lightweight, won a twelve round decision from Bert Spencer. Harry London, bantam, won a twelve round decision from Frankie Curry.

RAILWAY ORDERED TO RESUME SERVICE

RENO, March 24.—The Nevada Public Service Commission has notified J. M. Sexton, president of the Eureka-Nevada Railroad company, that service must be immediately resumed on the line or mandamus proceedings will be initiated to enforce obligations of the company.

Following the washing out of a section of the roadbed, Sexton instructed all employees be discharged and service abandoned. The order leaves Eureka, a town of 400 to 500 inhabitants, without rail communication with the outside world and threatens the district's food and fuel supplies.

PRINCESS AND YANKEE SPOUSE IN AUTO CRASH

NICE, France, March 23.—William B. Leeds, while driving with his wife, former Princess Xenia, of Greece, in an automobile toward Monte Carlo came into collision with another machine driven by Mlle. Fevre. The car of the French woman fell fifteen feet into a ravine and Mlle. Fevre was injured.
